DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites, last paragraph, fourth line, "means for receiving with the commodities exchange on behalf ..." This is unclear because it is grammatically incorrect. Maybe applicant meant means for receiving the commodities exchange information on behalf ...

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by www.usafutures.com.

www.usafutures.com, dated 1/25/99 as shown by archive.org, shows an online brokerage firm. (see online trading in directory, means for generating a contract between buyers and sellers or intermediaries and producers). The "hedging – soybeans example", found in the directory, explains the use of the futures market in the agricultural market. A futures contract includes the type of commodity, the quantity and a price, which is equal to the local cash bid or flat price and a basis price. (this is in the memory) The online brokerage (having first computing sub-system) receives electronic request from clients. (some clients are intermediaries) www.usafutures.com has communications with the commodities exchange. (second sub-system) The system has a web page and each account holder or client would have access specific to their own account. (third sub-system) From the example, it is clear that a producer of an agricultural commodity would be a client and therefore could be received at the website (means for transmitting the web page). The determination or calculation of a flat price (means for calculating flat price) is an inherent feature of agricultural price structure. A broker would be well aware of this old and well-known simple mathematical relation. The hedging process (fourth sub-system) described is where the broker (acting on behalf of a client) obtains future contracts in order to reduce price risk when a client is prepared to trade in the actual commodity. Online brokers have real time commodity pricing (means for receiving price information for anyone), which is on their websites, show in graphs and tables (correlating).

Art Unit: 3627

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 3/29/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant merely asserts that every claim limitation must be met, but makes no other arguments as to what is missing. The attempt to add means for function has not changed the claims that much.
